May Day Committees Chosen; Pageant Written But Unnamed

Manager Alberta Barnhart and her committees have begun work on the still unnamed pageant which will be presented to parents and friends of Ursinus coeds May 8. Highlight of the pageant will be the crowning of the May Queen, Jenefer Price.

The members of the dance council, Ricky Bauser and Nesta Lewis, Margie Abrahamson, Pat Frey, Jane Embrey, Joan Higgins, Kit Stewart, and chairman Chloe Oliver, held tryouts the past week and winners of the solo dance assignments and members of the various group dances appear at the end of this article.

Much of the narrative has been completed. Author Mary Lou Williams has written the continuity in verse.

The music committee, headed by Liz Conestrina, has chosen modern popular selections for the various dances. Indian dances, tomboys, several graceful dances, and tumbling are included in the pageant.

Also decided is the set for the pageant. Pat Frey is chairman of the committee.

The following is the list of dances and the participants. A schedule for dance practices is being arranged and will be posted.

The leading dance part in the pageant has been awarded to Jane Embrey. She will portray the fairy queen. The four winds will be Bobbie Hunt, Mary Gillespie, Betsy Ault, and Georgia Thomas. Kit Stewart and Pat Garrow have been cast as the two tomboys.

The five dance duets will be the Charleston by Diane Arms and Mary Jo Turtzo, rumba by Sue Sadler and Marilyn Freeman, polka by Sandy Miller and Bev Bowman, waltz by Lucy Malloy and Em Hallman, and jitterbug by Joan Strode and Rues Reeser.

Pantomime parts went to Jean Campbell and Mary McKerihan, the two heralds; Soni Kruz, the old queen; Kitty Eachus, the graduate; and the two cowboys, Marge Dawkins and Kay Hood.

Dr. Ernest Wagner to Address Chemistry Society Tonight

Tonight in S-12 at 7:15, at what should prove to be a very entertaining meeting for both students and faculty, Dr. Ernest C. Wagner, an Ursinus alumnus and present member of the Board of Directors, will speak on "Finding Research Topics for Graduate Students." Both Dean Pettit and Dr. Staiger have studied under Dr. Wagner, who heads the Organic Chemistry Department of the University of Pennsylvania.

The dance groups are as follows: babies, Nesta Lewis and Ricky Bauser, leader, Ruth Heller, Sue Holmes, Phyl Stadler, and Peggy Montgomery; rattles, Nancy Lewis, Lois Sutton, Marilyn Welsh, Judy Stanton, Gladys Hansen and Pat Buns.

Little girls, Joan Higgins leader, Helen Balthasar, Bev Henry, Barbara Kuebler and Janet Elizabeth Miller; animals, Mary Hartlieb, Nancy Griffin, Carolyn DeOlden, Joan Bradley, Jean Hain, Connie Cross, Barbara Lukens, and Beth Heinrichs; dolls, Joan Stahl, Carol Loper, Janet Stewart and Shirley Rittenhouse.

Artists, Chloe Oliver, leader, Bobbit Schweiker, Doris Lockey, Tookie Bream, Pat Gorkes, Nancy Strode, Misty Mistovich, J. Elyse Pade, Margie Struth, Ginny Stecker, Genevieve Bryson and Charlene Koyanagi.

Ballet, Jane Embrey, leader, Louise Becker, John Clement, Kerry Keel, Jane Hagner, Robin Blood and Nan Bergmann.

Records, Nancy Laid leader, Marian Kabakjian, Janet Pratt, Carol King and Carolyn Ertel.

Jumping rope, Pat Frey, leader, Kathy Feucht, Betty Tayes, Mary Lou Adam, Kay Fretz, Maxine Walker, Betty Macan, Barbara Wagner and June Davis.

1954 Ruby Show, "Campus Carnival" To be Held Apr. 24

Saturday, April 24, has been set as the date for a "Campus Carnival" sponsored by the Ruby. Both a fair and a show will be presented in the T-G Gym.

The Carnival will carry out a television theme. Game books will be set up under titles from TV shows such as "Kitchen Kapers", "Down You Go," "Double or Nothing," "The Big Payoff," and "Stop, Look, and Listen." There will be a cake sale, refreshment stands, and many kinds of games for prizes, including pitching pennies and rings, dice games, basketball shooting, and darts.

At 8:00 the curtain will go up for the Ruby Show. The climax of the evening will be the program of "This Is Your Life," when the life of a well-known campus personality will be presented. The name of the person will be kept secret until that night.

Some of the other acts in the show will include "Beat the Clock," "Dragnet," "Bandstands," "Show of Shows," "Howdy Doody," "You Bet Your Life," and wrestling. Famous television personalities such as Arthur Godfrey, Milton Berle, Jackie Gleason, Sid Caesar, Imogene Coca, Groucho Marx, Leslie Caron and Liberace will appear.

A record dance will follow at the end of the evening.

Dawkins, Matlaga Up for "Y" Head

Elections for the men's offices of the YM-YWCA for 1954-55 will be held Thursday, April 8, in front of Freeland Hall. The nominations for the offices are as follows: President, Ed Dawkins and Jack Matlaga; Vice President, Tom Ely and Phil How; and Treasurer, Jack Aregood and Chet Frankenkfield.

Both Presidential candidates are juniors. Ed Dawkins, who comes from Drexel Hill, is a member of the wrestling team; he won first place honors in his division in the Middle Atlantic Competition this year. A member of Beta Sig, he was on the membership committee on the Y cabinet in his sophomore year. From Mahanoy City, Jack Matlaga is co-leader of the World Relatedness Commission. Some of his activities are Meistersingers, Chi Alpha, and Sigma Rho.

Tom Ely and Phil How are both sophomores. Tom, of Jenkintown, is a math major. Some of his activities are Meistersingers and varsity soccer. Phil, member of Beta Sig, comes from Primos, Pa. His activities include soccer, sophomore class executive committee, and co-leadership of the Social Responsibilities Commission of the Y.

The nominees for Treasurer are both juniors. Jack Aregood's home is Orwigsburg. Jack is a member of Chi Alpha and manager of the soccer team. Jack represented the Ursinus Y at week-end work-camp several times. This year's rec center manager, Chet Frankenkfield is a member of the French Club, Chi Alpha, and Sigma Rho. He hails from Erwinna, Pa.

The Y urges the men of Ursinus to vote next Thursday for next year's leaders.

DEBATING TEAM WINS NINE

On Thursday, March 18, the Ursinus Debating Club decisioned the Immaculata team on the question of the adoption of a policy of free trade.

The Ursinus teams now hold a record of nine wins, five losses and a tie. The debaters are planning a tour of the Baltimore-Washington area.

A more complete story will appear in next week's Weekly.

Beardwood Group Host to ISC Convention Saturday

This Saturday, April 10, the Beardwood Chemical Society of Ursinus College will be host for the annual Intercollegiate Student Chemists convention.

The ISC convention, whose primary aim is to permit an exchange of chemical information between students and to foster original undergraduate research in chemistry, will be attended by representatives from member colleges and universities from Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland.

Member college include: Albright College, Reading, Pa.; Bryn Mawr College, Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, Pa.; Franklin and Marshall, Lancaster, Pa.; Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, Pa.; Haverford College, Haverford, Pa.; Lafayette College, Easton, Pa.; Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.; Muhlenberg College, Allentown, Pa.; Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pa.; Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa.; Univ. of Delaware, Newark, Del.; Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa.; Villanova College, Villanova, Pa.; Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa.; Washington College, Chestertown, Md.

Those attending the convention will be privileged to hear Mr. A. E. Forster, President of Hercules Powder Company of Wilmington, Delaware, who will address the group at the luncheon in the Ursinus College dining room. This address, at 2:30 p.m., will be open to the public.

Of great interest will be the exhibits dealing with the chemical profession that will be offered by leading industrial concerns and chemical supply houses of the Delaware Valley area. These enlightening exhibits will be displayed in the fahler Hall of Science.

The industrial exhibitors include: The Atlantic Refining Co., J. T. Baker Chemical Company, Beckman Instruments, Inc., E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co., The Electric Storage Battery Co., Firestone Plastics Co., Fourth Naval District, General Chemical Division, Hercules Powder Co., Houdry Process Corp., Keasby & Mattison Co., Penna. Meistersingers To Begin Spring Tour Today

Forty-two Meistersingers left on their spring concert tour yesterday at 5 p.m. The choral group will appear at various churches and high schools throughout New Jersey and will finish their tour Wednesday night.

Asbury Methodist Church in Camden was the first stop on the tour last night. The Meistersingers spent the night at homes of members. This morning the group appeared at Collingswood High School and this afternoon at Moorestown High School. Since there is no concert tonight the chorus will spend the evening in Atlantic City, staying at the YMCA and YWCA. There will be three appearances tomorrow; Pleasantville High School at 9 a.m., Wildwood High School at 1 p.m. and the First Presbyterian Church in Ocean City at 7:30 p.m., after which the group will again spend the night at members' homes. On Wednesday the group will sing at Bridgeton High School and Millville High, and the tour will end with a concert at Bala Cynwyd Methodist Church Wednesday night.

The repertoire for the tour consists of two separate concerts. Several selections from the group of sacred works are The Lord's Prayer, a Capella arranged by Harry Wilson; How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling from Brahms' requiem; and Mozart's Jesu, Word of God Incarnate. The secular concert consists, in part, of selections from Carousell, several songs by Sigmund Romberg; and various Fred Waring arrangements.

The chorus will be under the joint direction of Dr. William F. Philip and Robert McCarty '54. Accompanist for the tour is Ethel Lutz '55.

Co., Rohm & Haas Co., Sun Oil Co., Taylor Fibre Co., Arthur H. Thomas Co., United States Dept. of Agriculture, and Socony-Vacuum Oil Co.

During the morning sessions, students of ISC member institutions will present in the lecture auditorium of the Pfahler Hall of Science papers dealing with original scientific research. Awards for the three best presentations will be made at the luncheon.

The student papers to be presented are:

"A Simple Process for the Separation of Th234 and Pa234 from U238 and the Determination of the Half-Life of Pa234" (Darrah Thomas & C. F. Wurster—Haverford)

"The Preparation of Some Organosilicon Compounds Containing the 2, 6-Dimethylphenyl Group" (William C. Brood, Samuel L. Cozzens, Paul E. Grubb—Muhlenberg)

"Rates of Alcoholysis of Some Aromatic Organosilicon Chlorides" (Lawrence M. Brooker, Theodore Diduck, and Raymond H. Schweibert—Muhlenberg)

"Polarographic Analysis of Solutions of Alkyl Aryl Ketones and Benzaldehyde" (Robert Boyd—Lebanon Valley)

Miss Jean Walker To Visit Ursinus

The Ursinus YM-YWCA has invited Miss Jean Walker, Student Work Associate of the Board of Christian Education and Publication of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, to visit Ursinus campus this coming Wednesday, April 7. Miss Walker's purpose in coming is to "live along-side" students in their everyday college experiences—in the classroom, in extra-curricular activities, in dormitory "bull sessions", and in informal discussions.

On Wednesday evening in the Girls' Day Study at 7:00 o'clock Miss Walker will speak on the general theme of the relevance and power of Christian faith in campus life.

Miss Walker is well qualified to make such visits on a college campus. She studied at Oberlin College, was an exchange student at Fisk University, and was graduated from the University of Toledo in 1953. In addition she is active in many Christian activities, such as Pilgrim Fellowship, United Christian Youth Movement, United Student Fellowship and Student Volunteer Movement.

If anyone would be interested in meeting Miss Walker in an informal discussion, please contact YWCA President Jan Haines in Shreiner.

April in Paris Theme of Soph Dance in T-G Gym Friday Eve

An evening in the French atmosphere of the sidewalk cafe and cabaret will be in store for everyone when the Sophomore Class presents April in Paris on April 9 from 9 to 12 in the T-G gym.

Music will be presented by the "Stylers," a ten piece orchestra with Miss Alma Arlene as soloist. There will be no charge for admission.

The dance will be cabaret style, with cafe tables, waiters and refreshments. Programs and refreshments will be sold.

The committees for the dance are: Refreshments, Bob Crigler and Jane Hagner; Decorations, Kay Fretz and Priscilla Cherry; Publicity, Vin Fisher; Tickets, Frank Brown; Program, Rowland Hutchinson.

M-A TESTS TO BEGIN SOON

All students who wish to take the Medical Admissions Test in May are urged to submit their applications as soon as possible. The deadline for submission of applications is April 15.

Fraternities

by Frank Brown '56

The only news this week from the Interfraternity Council is that the IF track meet is coming up soon. We are not as yet sure when it will be, but all of you fellows keep it in mind.

Alpha Phi Epsilon—The "Ape's" would like to welcome Bill Tull into the fraternity as a new brother. Last Wednesday they had their formal initiations, and they will have their dinner-dance on May 29. They have not decided where it will be held.

Beta Sigma Lambda—Beta Sig has increased their number. Welcome Joe Belovich and Jim Vlahos. This coming Monday, April 12, the brothers will have their annual Easter Party for the children of the Rivercrest Preventorium. This will be held with the Alpha Sigma Nu sorority.

This last Saturday night Beta Sig had a party at the Royersford Firehouse. Al Pollock's Orchestra provided the music. The fraternity's dinner-dance will be held at the Lanerch Country Club on April 30th.

Delta Mu Sigma—The news from Demas is that they will have their dinner-dance on May 28th at the Reading Country Club. There were no alternate bids given out by Demas.

Sigma Rho Lambda—On Tuesday, April 13th, Sig Rho and Phi Alpha Psi will have an Easter

Sororities

by Marilyn Herrmann '55

A more certain sign of Spring's arrival than the budding of flowers, the return of the bright breasted robin, or a young man's fancy lightly turning is the planning of sororities for their annual spring dinner dances. Spring-Ford seems to be the place for dinner dances this year with O Chi having their dance there on May 7, Sigma Nu on May 14 and Tau Sig on May 27. Phoenixville Country Club will be the scene of the Phi Psi's dinner dance on May 27 and KDK's on May 14.

In keeping with the true significance of the Easter season, several sororities and fraternities are cooperating on charity projects. Phi Psi and Sig Rho are giving an Easter party at Christ's Home on April 13. Sigma Nu is planning an Easter egg hunt at the Rivercrest Preventorium with Beta Sig on April 12.

All kinds of parties are being planned for the next several weeks which, as everyone knows, is the busiest social season of the year at Ursinus. Sig Nu is planning a clambake for April 26. Phi Psi will have a real old fashioned square dance—doggie roast at the Haslam's Fellowship House Farm on April 28. KDK will have a sorority breakfast on May 19 at the Miller's home. Plans are also underway for the spring inter-sorority party for freshman women. Sounds like there are some enjoyable times ahead, doesn't it?

From the looks of the Ursinus College band, either music teachers are starving for lack of students, college life is becoming too full to indulge in instrumental music, or students no longer play an instrument unless they desire to turn professional.

Since we have not heard of a profusion of music instructors dying in the past years for lack of nutrition, then there must be students at Ursinus able to play music; nor are all those who are able to play so pressed for time that they are in a constant hurricane; and we do not think that there is a great majority of musicians here who intend to turn professional.

Here we are, "The fightin'est College in the East" and proud of our accomplishments, except the band. Few care about that. Yet when the Penn Band gave its concert March 18 the new gym was packed with Ursinusites. It would seem that everyone enjoys listening to a band but "let somebody else do it."

PMC's curriculum must be as weighty as ours and still they have a band that plays even at basketball games. More and better musicians? No, more and better spirit.

So when the band presents its spring concert, support it and remember that it is said, "Music soothes the savage breast." Maybe it can help around Ursinus?

MS-WSGA Prepares Willard Shepard to Honor System Talk on Medical Illustrations

On Monday evening the MSGA reviewed a case of contempt of court. The defendant was one of a number of boys who had been found guilty of disturbing the peace in a boys' dormitory and fined with eight hours work to be completed by a designated date. The others involved finished their work on time. The defendant, however, had finished only three hours work after being told to complete it a number of times. The defendant came before the MSGA with a "chip on his shoulder" attitude and proceeded to act accordingly, without offering any definite defense for himself. He was found negligent of his duty and a violator of the punishment given him by the MSGA. In accordance with this, he was given twelve hours work to be completed between Tuesday morning and Saturday at 6:00 p.m.; If he does not complete this, the fourteen temporary demerits which he had already earned this year, will be turned into permanent demerits and put on his record.

A progress report was also given on the honor system which is in preparation by the MS - WSGA. An academic honor system will not be strived for at first. However, a complete honor system is being planned. To begin, something like an honor system in the dormitories is being contemplated. For girls, this would mean the possible alleviation of having to sign out, etc. For boys, such things as stealing, breakage, disturbing the peace, etc., would be controlled. This is only the beginning; as the plans formulate themselves, reports will be made.

CHI ALPHA TOURS SEMINARY

A small group of Chi Alpha members toured the Evangelical and Reformed Theological Seminary at Lancaster on Saturday, April 3. The Dean of the Seminary, Dr. David Dunn, conducted the Ursinus visitors around the Seminary. In addition to touring the campus and visiting with friends at the Seminary, the Ursinus students were served lunch in the refectory of the Seminary. Bob Myers, senior, had charge of arrangements for the trip.

The Brownback - Anders Pre-Medical Society will meet on Tuesday, April 6, in S-12 at 7:30 p.m. The speaker will be Mr. Willard C. Shepard, art editor of the W. B. Saunders Company. Mr. Shepard's address will deal with the field of Medical illustration. The entire student body is invited to attend, for it should prove to be an interesting evening for anyone interested in art or history as well as for those in the pre-medical field.

Summer Session Registration Begins; Courses Are Listed

The Ursinus College summer session for 1954 will be an eight week session extending from July 6 to August 26. Students may enroll for a maximum of nine semester hours. Registration for the summer session should be completed at the Dean's Office before May 1. Students who are interested may obtain all necessary information by contacting the Office of the Dean.

The comprehensive fee covering tuition, room and board will be $275 for men and $287.50 for women. The fee for students living in their own homes is $125.

The following courses will definitely be offered in summer school: Biology 9-10; Chemistry 1-2, 14, 7-8; Economics 3, 4; Education 7; English Literature 20; French 3-4; German 3-4; Mathematics 1; and Physics 1-2.

If the enrollment warrants it the following courses will also be offered, though they are not yet definite: Biology 3-4, 7-8; Chemistry 3-4, 5-6; Economics 17, 21; Education 2, 3, 4, 7; English Composition 1, 2; English Literature 3, 4, 6; French 2; German 1-2; Physical Education; History 1-2, 9, 10, 20; Mathematics 11-12; Philosophy 5, 6; Political Science 1-2, 5-6; Psychology 1; Russian 1-2; Spanish 2, 3-4. Students who are interested in these courses should contact Mr. Pettit within the next few days.

Thinking Out Loud

by Bob Armstrong '54

"OPPOSITES ATTRACT?"

The rule that opposites attract may be all well and good in the field of science. Any physics major will tell you that the north pole of a magnet will attract the south pole of another magnet. They will say that this holds true in almost all fields of science.

But how about human relations? Many people seem to advocate that opposites also attract when such things as personalities are involved. Do you believe that this is true? Are your best friends the people who are the most unlike yourself, or are they the people with whom you have the most in common? Let's investigate.

Why is it that we seem to spend most of our free time associating with members of our own fraternity or sorority? The common bond of friendship and association in many activities with these people draw the group very close together to a point of unity. You all have very much in common.

Those people in your own dormitory have a little more in common with you than those in other dorms. Those people whose rooms are on your own floor seem to be a little closer as friends in many cases. Those who share your own room, your roommates, are usually the closest of all to you. The more you have in common, the closer the tie of friendship becomes. When you move to a new dorm you may find that your ties of friendship with some of your old dorm pals becomes weaker, simply because you do not have quite so much in common any longer.

How about that close friend of yours from your freshman year who left Ursinus at the end of his or her first year. You haven't seen them for some time. You have less in common. Is he or she still your very best friend?

Remember those pals from your high school days? Now that you have so very little in common is the tie of friendship quite as close as before? Of course you are still friends, but isn't your roommate a little closer friend now?

Whenever we meet a stranger at the shore or any other place the first thing that we often do is to see if they know anyone that we know or to see if they may have anything else in common with us. The more things we discover that the stranger has in common with us, the closer the new person becomes to us. Did you ever take a long trip and meet a person from your home state? It is usually a lot of fun talking to them and asking what part of your state they come from, etc. You have something in common. You are thus attracted to the person.

About the only real exception to this is the attraction of opposites in the sexes, the strong attraction of male and female, but even in this case the two opposites are usually attracted to each other by similarities in personality and interests. Thus I feel that I may safely conclude that a rule which might be true in the laboratory doesn't necessarily apply in human relations, as some people advocate. Of course, there are exceptions, but I feel safe in saying that in human relations it is the similarities which attract more so than the opposites.

One-Act Play, "Trifles," Represented Ursinus At Cultural Olympics; NYU, St. Joseph's Top

Ursinus was represented again this year at the annual Cultural Olympics program by a small group under the auspices of Alpha Psi Omega. The group traveling to the University of Pennsylvania on March 19 presented the one-act play Trifles written by Susan Glaspow. This play concerned the attempt to find the murderer or clue to the murder of a farmer found strangled in his bed while his wife slept beside him. Starring in the production were Nancy Strode, Joan Higgins, Frank Brown, John Hottenstein, and Wayne Millward. Ed Abramson handled the actual directing.

Trifles was the first play given in the two night series of seven presentations. Performing also on the 19th were St. Joseph's College and Beaver College. Saturday Rosemont, New York University, Rutgers and West Chester put on their plays.

No official rating of plays has been received as yet, but general opinion has placed the plays of NYU and St. Joseph's at the top. Ursinus was neither the best nor the worst, but was considered somewhat in the middle.

BITS BY HENRY SHUTE READ BY DR. BAKER IN LIBRARY

The English Literature reading returned to home soil last Tuesday night as Dr. Donald Baker read from the works of Henry Shute, New England humorist. Dr. Baker quoted selections from The Real Diary of a Real Boy (1868) and its sequel Sequel which bears the subtitle, Brite and Fair.

All of the Shute's writings are about local material around the town of Exeter, New Hampshire, where he was born. He held positions in Exeter as a lawyer and judge until in his nineties.

Self Help Job No Deterrent To Active Campus Career

"I worked my way through college."

"You did? How did you do it?"

"Well, I worked in the summer, of course, but I waited on tables in the dining room during the year."

"Oh, well, then you must have had a miserable time, not able to do any of the interesting things people do in college. It must have been a terrible drain on you, and I'll bet no one knew you because you had to work."

This conversation might have been carried on with any of the many students who work part or all of their way through college. But contrary to the idea of many people, a person who holds a self-help job need not drag behind when it comes to studies, extra-curricular activities, or popularity. Let's look around Ursinus at the various students employed in self-help jobs. They have proved that it's the individual and not the job which holds people back from participation in activities and attainment on the dean's list.

Of the 88 people listed as having all B's and at least one A, 20 hold self-help jobs. Many of these twenty are recognized as active participants in the college activities. Their jobs range from kitchen help and waiting on tables to switchboard operators and library assistants.

As far as activities go, a glance around the dining room at any meal will prove the point. Both student council presidents, active in many other things as well, are wearers of the white jacket. The secretary and treasurer of the senior class, the president, vice-president, and treasurer of the junior class (the secretary worked in the kitchen for two years also) are found there at mealtime, and the secretary of the sophomore class is a waitress.

The entire wrestling team with the exception of one man was employed in the dining room during wrestling season. That just proves that it is quite possible to go out for sports and work at the same time. Those boys found it doubly hard because practice almost always ran into their mealtime.

It would be ridiculous to list every person who has a self-help job and the many things he does, but the next time you hear of a waitress, athlete, or library assistant volunteering for extra work in one of the many organizations he belongs to, remember that he is not the underprivileged waif that many people think he is.

Explorations, Ltd.

During the recent Spring Vacation, two formidable expeditions set out to survey conditions in "Rebel Country". The first was headed by Harry "Frank Buck" Hance and the second was under the command of Bart "Ulysses" Byers.

The first to leave was the Florida group under the expert leadership of Harry Hance and having Messers Green and Mauro as cohorts. Mr. Hance procured a '54 Ford and the group made a 24 hour non-stop dash to Jacksonville. Mr. Hance has emphasized that, unlike his previous excursions, this was strictly a pleasure trip. Only one lizard made the return trip.

Mr. Hance has put in a request for a new navigator since Mr. Mauro unwittingly marooned the group in a sandy road from which it required three hours to escape. Plans are already being formulated for the next trip.

The second expedition was one of historical nature. Composed of Mr. Bart Byers and Mr. Bob Grant, class of '53, the group made its way to New Orleans via the Blue Ridge and Smokey Mountains. The group was in no hurry and made numerous stops at battlegrounds.

Upon their arrival in New Orleans the small but worthy group proceeded to comb the city for points of historical interest. From Basin Street to the French Quarter, the city was searched, but to no avail. Mr. Byers soon exhausted his small store of inquisitiveness and was soon ready to head North. Along the great Mississippi the group wandered, stopping at such points as L.S.U., Tulane, and Vicksburg. More than 4,000 miles had been logged by the time the group arrived home. Mr. Byers reports that never once did his group run short of water.

Campus Atmosphere Alters As Springtime Returns

Robins chirping merrily at sun-up; the first yellow and purple crocuses bursting into bloom; pale green buds on feathery willow branches—to most people these are sure signs that Spring is on its way. Yet these universal harbingers of the fairest of all seasons have lost authority here at Ursinus and have been replaced by a definitely more noticeable, if not more reliable, indicator of the coming of Spring: the student body.

Spring at Ursinus is not the gradually unfolding process that is seen elsewhere in the world. One morning there is a hint of warmth in the sunlight and suddenly, as one alumnus explained it to me, "it's exactly like a country club!"

You'll find the library nearly deserted; you will, that is, if you can manage to wade through the horde of sun-worshippers reclining on the front steps. Ursinus students have originated all sorts of positions designed for absorbing a maximum of sun and facts with a minimum of effort. On a balmy afternoon last week one co-ed was observed "studying" flat on her stomach on the bottom step!

The steps of Pfahler have their permanent Spring occupants, too, but these, in the main, seem to consist of couples. Any science major trying hard to ignore the beauties of the Spring weather on his way to an afternoon-consuming lab is almost certain to turn green with envy when he reaches Pfahler's steps. His pace slows as he approaches the science building; halfway up the steps he is practically creeping; then, resigned to his sad fate he enters the building imagining that he hears prison gates clanging shut behind him. As he heads toward his lab, he can probably be heard muttering, "Why didn't I major in business administration?" The sounds of laughter and leisurely conversation drifting in through the open windows of the laboratory continue to agitate the scientific student during the afternoon; finally he sheepishly admits defeat and escapes at a moment when his instructor has conveniently stepped into another room. Joining his friends at the tennis courts, this student fully intends to make up his unfinished work at the earliest possible opportunity. Unfortunately, however, unless the Spring happens to be a particularly rainy one the science major is quite likely to fail the course in question, and several weeks later he may be heard informing his parents that he really wanted to be a business major anyway.

Another evidence of Spring at Ursinus is the sudden migration of students to the back campus. The above-mentioned tennis courts, unused all year except by those hardest of individuals who are undaunted by the chilling winds of Winter, become major centers of campus activity. Throngs of tennis enthusiasts crowd the courts and their surroundings. These students come in three varieties: those waiting to play (hecklers); those recuperating from a few fast sets (hecklers); and the few actually engaged in play (heckled). With the arrival of warm weather the grassy area immediately behind the boys dorms is obscured by blankets and towels on which male students dressed purely for comfort relax while studying or simply relax in the pleasant Spring breezes.

Of course, Spring and romance always are known to complement each other, and this facet of the glorious season does not go unnoticed at Ursinus. As the climate becomes more temperate there is an obvious increase in the number of couples to be seen strolling hand in hand and arm in arm and so forth toward the distant girls' dormitories in the evening. The more cynical women of Ursinus have frequently wondered if that oft-used old saying "In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love" is actually true, or if this stepped-up escort service simply is caused by the fact that it's no longer too cold to walk a girl home.

But cynical or sentimental, ambitious athlete or lazy loafer, everyone happily welcomes the new season. Everyone except, perhaps, the faculty, who must go to class no matter how beautiful the weather is, lecture to a room only half filled with daydreaming students, and never, never give in to that inviting call: Relax! Enjoy yourself! It's Spring . . . at Ursinus!

Kulp's Double Win Aids Off-Campus Intramural Quest

Off-Campus made a clean sweep of Intramural Night this year, garnering 87 points via boxing and wrestling, to out-class runner-up Derr with 56½ points and third-place Stine with 53. Rounding out the scoring was Curtis with 42, Brodbeck with 38½, Todd Hall with 21 and Freeland with 7. Off-Campus tallied 45 points in boxing and 42 in wrestling. Derr collected 37 in boxing, but faltered in wrestling by scoring only 19½. Curtis and Stine were distant seconds, both scoring 25 points in grappling.

Kolp, Crigler Win Two

Frank Kolp led the Off-Campus team by becoming one of two double champions. Frank defeated Tap Webb in the 137 pound wrestling class, after winning a TKO over Dick Hause in the boxing 187 pound class. The other double winner was Bobbie Crigler of Derr Hall, who pinned Dick Albright and followed up by winning a decision over Barry Ciliberti in the 147 pound boxing class. Pete Foreman, of Off-Campus, pinned Don Parlee of Stine to become the 137 lb. wrestling champion for the second straight year. Don Knauf, after defeating Ben Settles and Don Carver in preliminary bouts, pinned Jack Aregood of 724 for the 167 lb. wrestling championship.

A summary of the champions follows:

Belles Suffer 1st Cage Loss Despite Jo Kuhn's 29 Points

Friedlin, Watson, Abr'mson, Merrifield, Price, Murphy Play Final Game for Ursinus; Height Decides

No one can say they didn't try. But the Belles were unable to cope with the towering Owlettes from Temple as they lost their last game, and the game that would have given them the first undefeated season in Ursinus history.

The final score was 44-37, but it barely tells the story of the effort, determination, and fight Eleanor Snell's desperate Belles showed to a packed house two weeks ago when they fought up to the final whistle for the victory and for their coach.

Temple's Height Advantage

From the outset it was obvious that the tall Temple team was entering the game with a potential advantage. But they had to fight every inch against the little Ursinus guards who forced them to the limit of their endurance.

But Ursinus salvaged two things out of the game. One was the high scorer in the person of junior Joanne Kuhn, captain-elect, who tallied 29 big points. The other was the admiration of the fans for Miss Snell, who jumped up at the final whistle to congratulate Temple mentor, Anne Volpe. Such a defeat is mighty hard to take, and it was taken admirably.

The game spelled the end for several Ursinus players. Captain Joanne Friedlin, whose aggressive floor play and deadly hook shots have been the base of opposing guards for several seasons; Margie Watson, the Belles' outside shooter; Marge Abrahamson, rugged defender of the Ursinus basket with alert Marge Merrifield; and Jen Price and Agnes Murphy, the insurance on the bench have played their final game.

The Belles led at only two points in the entire game. Once was at the beginning when Jo Friedlin cashed in on a hook shot to open the game, and the other time was at the start of the second period. The game was tied at 30-30 at another point, but the Belles trailed throughout the remainder of the game.

The first period ended at 8-7, Temple leading. The second stanza was big for both teams but Temple outdistanced the Belles and led 25-18. Jo Friedlin opened the third quarter to start a small rally and the period ended at 33-30 with the foe still in the lead.

Both teams slowed down in the final quarter with accuracy the key to winning the game. Temple outlasted the Belles and iced the game with four field goals.

The jayvee Belles, led by Polly Taylor with 16 saved the day for Ursinus when they squeezed by a strong Temple team 31-30 to take the second game of a twin-bill two weeks ago.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason . . . enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better . . . always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

In cigarettes that always please,
The flavor must be right;
So students wise choose Lucky Strike,

COLLEGE SMOKERS PREFER LUCKIES

A comprehensive survey—based on 31,000 student interviews and supervised by college professors—shows that smokers in colleges from coast to coast prefer Luckies to all other brands! The No. 1 reason: Luckies' better taste!
